

1. Public Executive Summary

This document describes our initial prototype of a 2K resolution, real-time capable, depth capture method for cinematographic or broadcast use. In future research, this initial prototype will be further refined and integrated with complementary depth scanning techniques developed by other 2020 3D media partners.